Barbara Yuncker Wins Medical Journalism Award

Barbara Yuncker, medical and science writer of the New York Post, and a native of Greencastle, is the winner of the 18th Annual Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Award in the newspaper field. Miss Yuncker won her award — considered the most prestigious in the medical journalism field — for her series, "The Pill."

Miss Yuncker is a graduate of Greencastle High School and of DePauw University, where she was graduated summa cum laude with an A.B. degree. Her mother still makes her home here. Her late father, Dr. Truman G. Yuncker, was a distinguished biologist associated with DePauw from 1919 to his death in 1964.

Announcement of the winners of the Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Awards were made by Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, president of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, which is sponsor of the project.

Miss Yuncker is being presented with her award Thursday, May 25, at a luncheon at the St. Regis Hotel Roof in New York City, where Senator Fred R. Harris (D-Okla.), member of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, and Chairman of its Subcommittee on Government Research, is the speaker.

The Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Awards consist of $2,500 each, an engraved citation, and a statuette of the Winged Victory of Samothrace, symbolizing, in this instance, victory over death and disease. The Awards are given for distinguished work published in magazines and newspapers, or presented on television, during the prior year, on medical research and public health.

The Awards Jury was impressed by the way in which Miss Yuncker's series explored the social, religious and economic issues which the introduction of the pill has created in the first decade of its use. It lauded the writer for recognizing and conveying "to a large public the significance of this simple pill as an enormous force which is transforming the world."

Miss Yuncker has been the New York Post's medical and science writer for the past 8 years.

Nunn Has Slim Lead In Kentucky Balloting

LOUISVILLE, Ky. UPI — Conservative Louie B. Nunn moved into a slim lead early today in his bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination against Jefferson County Judge Marlow W. Cook.

Cook, who sought to become the state's first Roman Catholic governor, saw an early lead dwindle steadily as returns from rural areas were reported. The election also saw the apparent end to the colorful political career of former baseball commissioner and two-time Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who lost by a landslide vote to administration-backed Henry Ward.

With 2776 of 3021 precincts reporting, Nunn had 82,680 votes to 82,038 for Cook.

Nunn, 43, the 1963 GOP nominee, garnered a large block of his support from the mountainous southeastern Kentucky "Bible Belt," counties where anti-Catholic feelings still persist.

Cook, 40, built up an early lead as returns came in from metropolitan Louisville. The candidate's home county gave him a 23,000-vote advantage.

GOP Candidate Defeats Hoffa

DETROIT UPI — A George Romney-backed Republican Tuesday defeated James P. Hoffa, the son of the imprisoned Teamsters Union president, to give the GOP control of the Michigan House of Representatives.

The 158-vote margin polled by Anthony Licata, 48, a Detroit advertising executive, fulfilled the "political miracle" which Romney said would be needed to defeat Hoffa.

Hoffa, a 26-year-old law school graduate and former legislative intern, had the support of both Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Vice President Hubert Humphrey in the bid to give the Democrats control of the house, now held 55-54 by the Republicans.

The unofficial final tally from the 19th District gave Licata 5,864 votes to Hoffa's 5,706.

It was the first attempt at public office for both candidates and the first Republican winner in the northwest Detroit district in 20 years.

3 Scout Leaders Receive Awards

Three veteran Boy Scout leaders have been named recipients of Silver Beaver awards. The awards were made Tuesday night at the annual recognition dinner of the Wabash Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Terre Haute.

Receiving the high honor were Vern Larkin; Cloverdale; Leo Ford, Terre Haute; and James E. Thorne, Robinson, Ill. The Silver Beavers were presented by George Carroll and Ernie Long.

The trio joined 75 other men who have been honored with the award since the first was presented in 1931 to L. H. Dirks of Greencastle.

Wood Badge beads were presented by Al Sibenmorgen to Ed Utterback, Terre Haute, and the Rev. Victor Koontz, Clinton. The beads recognize the successful completion of a special training course for Scout leaders.

Speaker for the evening was Edward Pease, Seelyville Boy Scout who participated in delivering the annual report of the Boy Scouts of America to President Lyndon Johnson.

Maynard Tuttle, 315 Hanna Street, received a veteran 15-year service award.

Need More Acts For Talent Revue

The Putnam County Playhouse's Talent Revue was given a good start at tryouts last Sunday, however, the directors, Dr. James Elrod and Peter Hill, are still seeking acts.

Already set to perform on June 30, July 1 and 2 are a girls' singing group, several acrobats and dancers, a pit orchestra, and a girls' chorus line.

"We'd like to see more acts from outside of Greencastle," Dr. Elrod said. Adults who will act in sketches, men singers, string players for the pit orchestra, and any really unique acts are still needed for the show. The directors would particularly like to see couples who will perform the dances of their era, be it the twenties, the thirties, the forties, or even the teens. "Even if they prefer not to perform," said Dr. Elrod, "we would welcome them as teachers for others."

Anyone still desiring to tryout should notify Dr. Elrod at OL 3-6289 in Greencastle or Mr. Hill at OL 3-6618 within the next ten days.

Peacemakers Striving To Avert War In Middle East

Over 500 degree winners and nearly 1,000 alumni will have their days at DePauw University May 26-27-28 when the university observes its 128th annual commencement weekend.

Between the opening shot of Congressman Lee Hamilton at an Alumni Institute Friday and the final commencement address by English educator John Steve Watson Sunday there is a jammed schedule of events.

Friday night the university's new alumni directors will be installed at a dinner meeting, and the special reunion classes of 1917 and 1942 will convene.

The major influx of alumni comes Saturday when registration opens at 9 a.m., just prior to the Alumni Chapel in East College.

John T. McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense, and Horace O. Westman, retired vice president of the First National City Bank of New York, are scheduled to be main speakers at the chapel for their reunion classes of 1942 and 1917 respectively.

The awarding of citations to five outstanding alumni will headline a Bowman Gymnasium luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Saturday. To be honored for outstanding achievements and services which reflect honor upon DePauw are William P. Bogie, editor and publisher of Banking magazine, Northport, L.I., N.Y.; Elizabeth A. Greenleaf, assistant dean of students, Indiana University, Bloomington; George W. Pierce, lawyer, Muncie; Brig. Gen. Ernest A. Escapee Draws 10-Year Sentence

A 10-year prison sentence was handed Ronald Houchin, 27, Mitchell, for armed robbery when he pleaded guilty Tuesday in the Putnam Circuit Court before Judge Francis N. Hamilton.

Houchin also pleaded guilty to escaping from the State Farm and was sentenced to serve 1-5 years in the State Reformatory. Both sentences will be served concurrently.

The defendant held up Ernest Jones and Raymond Jones at their home south of Putnamville Sunday. He tied their hands and stole their automobile before being apprehended by State Trooper Don Collins.

Ephraim Dickson, 45, Rockville, Route 1, pleaded guilty when arraigned to drawing a deadly weapon. He was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to the State Farm for six months.

Army Officer Defects To Cuba

MIAMI UPI — Havana Radio announced today that Maj. Richard Hardwood Pearce, aide to the commanding general of the U.S. 4th Army, has asked for and received asylum in Cuba.

According to the broadcast, heard in Miami, Pearce said he left the United States "because of my conscience."

Pearce, who was the subject of a Coast Guard search since Sunday, took his five-year-old son with him to Havana.

Pope Calls For End Of Bombing

VATICAN CITY UPI — Pope Paul VI today called for an end to the bombing of North Vietnam and to Communist arms infiltration into South Vietnam.

The Roman Catholic pontiff told an audience of pilgrims that "all acts of terrorism" in Vietnam should cease.

The call for an end to the bombing in North Vietnam was the first time the Pope had made such a direct appeal. He coupled it with appeals to the Communists to stop the infiltration and terrorism which he said does not serve the cause of peace.

Teachers' Strike Crisis Is Past

SOUTH BEND UPI — The crisis appears to have passed in the school board dispute here with the school board and both sides should reach agreement within the next several days, State Superintendent of Schools Richard Wells said Tuesday.

Wells met Tuesday with South Bend School Superintendent Charles Holt and Thomas Bull, president of Teachers AFL-CIO, and later said both Holt and Bull agreed to "sit down and settle the issues remaining in their dispute."

About one-third of South Bend's 1,557 teachers went on strike last Thursday, but by Monday that number had dwindled to about 300 as the result of a temporary court injunction restraining the teachers from striking. Tuesday all teachers returned to their classrooms.

by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

Many of you have been asking for some hints on making cabbage slaw.

First, do not cut the cabbage while it is warm. This is the secret to getting thin, crispy, cole slaw. I cut my head of cabbage in half the day before, cover it with water, and put it in the refrigerator in a covered container.

The next day I take out that cold, crunchy cabbage and start slicing. Slaw is NOT grated. It is either cut on a slicer (which most of us have or can buy for less than a dollar at the dime store), or with a knife . . . which takes more time. Make it as thin as possible for the best results.

Now, if you forget to put the cabbage under water ahead of time . . . cut the cabbage in half and start slicing from the inside. Wet two paper napkins. Put half of the thinly sliced cabbage in the bottom of a bowl. Lay one wet napkin on top of this layer. Put in the rest of the cabbage and lay the second wet napkin over all.

Next, place the bowl of cabbage in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator for fifteen or twenty minutes. As soon as you see that the wet napkin is brittle (which means it is frozen), take the bowl out quickly.

Don't touch the slaw with your hands. Pour on your favorite dressing and mix it with a fork by tossing. Serve immediately.

Superb crunchy slaw!

Heloise
P. S. I wonder if you all are aware that the core of the cabbage is tasty too! When I grate it, people tell me it is the greatest and ask if I put horseradish in it. I never have, but I always use the core . . . for grating purposes, not slicing.

Dear Heloise:

My husband is a salesman and requires a white shirt and tie every day.

He likes clip-on ties so much better than the regular ones, that the clip-on ties wore out first. So I cut about six inches from the middle of his regular ties to make them the same length as the others. Then I just put the plastic clip from the old clip-on tie into the new one I made.

Be sure to cut it and sew it where the seam will be underneath the knot. I used an old tie that was beyond wear as a pattern so as not to ruin a good tie.

time and the only part that needs to be washed is the cap. Mrs. Richard Rohe

Dear Heloise:

I have heard different people make the statement that they would put fabric softener in their last rinse water if they could catch the automatic washer at the right time.

When I got my new washer, I stayed at the washer the first time to see how many minutes it took from start until the last rinse, then jotted the time down.

I then set my timer on my stove so I would know when to add my fabric softener.

I do this now everytime I want to add fabric softener and it never fails.

Instead of using shaving cream on legs and under the arms, try hand lotion when shaving those places.

It works smoothly, leaves legs soft and there is no stinging or burning or rinsing afterwards. I just rub the excess lotion in.

Small Per Cent Of Corn Planted

LAFAYETTE, UPI — Only 15 per cent of the Hoosier corn crop had been planted by the end of last week—but the situation doubtless has improved in the last three days.

Robert E. Straszheim, agricultural statistician at Purdue, said in his weekly crop report that wet fields hampered plowing and planting and progress of field work rated 12 days behind normal.

The corn crop percentage in the ground compared with 55 per cent average over the last five years, and 25 per cent this time last year.

Less than five per cent of the soybean crop has been planted. The five-year average for this time of year is 30 per cent.

Winter wheat is 25 per cent headed, well in advance of 15 per cent a year ago but behind the 35 per cent average.

There was a decline in soil moisture from a week ago as top-soils began drying at a more rapid rate. But ratings for top-soil moisture remained adequate to mostly surplus while subsoil moisture was adequate to surplus.

State climatologist L. A. Schaal, in an accompanying report, said rains of the past five weeks "left soils in good condition for those droughty periods of summer that should be expected."

Red Rioters Now Staging Strikes

HONG KONG UPI — Peking-backed Communists today turned from riots to strikes in their effort to humble the British rulers of Hong Kong. In nearby Macao the Reds renewed their pressure on already chastened Portuguese authorities.

The Portuguese capitulated earlier this year to the same kind of demands Peking is now making against Britain. The British have stated they will not bow.

A British ban on all unauthorized demonstrations in the crown colony appeared to have put a damper on two weeks of mob violence and rioting.

But Communist workers disrupted the colony with a go-slow bus strike and the Red newspaper Kuang Pao warned the work slowdown was "only their first action."

In Macao, groups of Communists marched on the senate building to demand that a Chinese municipal employee who ripped down a wall-poster be handed over to them. Communist leaders and Portuguese authorities scheduled meetings to settle the question.

Nation Enjoys Spring Weather

By United Press International
Peaceful spring weather reigned over most of the nation today, though a few spotty showers and thundershowers lingered early today in the northern plains and Great Lakes area and along the southern Atlantic coast.

In the plains, furious winds followed thunderstorms, with gusts up to 74 mph recorded at Rapid City, S. D. Rainfall, however, was light.

Scattered rainfall eased Florida's drought Tuesday, with most of the state getting some much-needed moisture.

Temperatures are mild over most of the nation, marking the end of a record cold snap in the East. Readings in New England in the early morning were above freezing for the first time in a week.

Russellville Ladies

Aid Holds Meeting

The Ladies Aid of the Russellville Christian Church met for their regular all day meeting Thursday, May 18. Nine were present for the noon meal.

President, Nettie Calvert, opened the business meeting at 1:30 having all sing two verses of "What A Friend," accompanied by Mary McGaughey at the piano.

The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved with the balance in the treasury being $975.85.

Nettie Calvert stated, as is customary, the Aid will furnish refreshments for three days of Bible School. Waunetta McGaughey and Hazel Sutherland volunteered to do part of this.

It was mentioned that we send a note of thanks to Mr. Claude Grimes for the nice job of painting the basement floor, that he did.

The Aid was asked to furnish the drink for the Bryan Zuerner family's farewell supper. This was held Sunday evening, May 21. Also we were asked to furnish punch and cookies at the reception following Larry Grimes, Ordination on June 4.

Helen Higgins made a motion seconded by Kate Lyons that the Aid donate $50.00 again this year to the youth camp-out. This will take place June 17, 18, and 19, at John Grimes' Camp Grounds. Beverly Davis told us who the speaker for each evening would be. Everyone is invited out to these evening services.

Nettie Calvert read a letter from the committee on purchasing the Bryan Zuerner property for use as a new parsonage. Discussion followed with Mary McGaughey making a motion that we postpone our discussion on this for a few days. This was seconded by Hazel Sutherland.

Thoughts for the day were given by Merrill Leonard. She read an appropriate poem on "Excuses" and read from "Grandma's Garden" followed by Prayer.

Roll Call was answered by 15 members telling where they were baptized and each giving their favorite Bible verse.

The president, Nettie Calvert, closed the meeting reading the sixth, down to the first, Most Important Words, and all repeated the benediction.

Soft drinks were furnished by Harry Stout of the Coca-Cola Company.

Miller PTA Holds

Most Enjoyable Meeting

"The Sentimental Scarecrow" a delightful one act playlet was presented by members of the sixth grades of Miller School at the PTA meeting Monday night. Those taking part were Greg Mays, Sally Cooper, Phyllis Reeves, Rusty McIntyre, Vickie Shepherd, Janet Long, William Meehan, and Dawn Schneider. Doug Wokoun told of the trip his class took to Terre Haute using money they had won in the PTA room count. Charles Aker directed special music. Dorothy Grimes and Erwin Neier are the teachers.

Ben Dean from the Fire Department introduced John Vermillion from the City Police Department who in turn presented the Safety Patrol awards to the boys and girls who so ably protected the children at the intersections.

In recognition of Mrs. Muriel Rockhill's retiring from the teaching staff at Miller, pupils of her class, Larry Monnett and Melodie Strain presented her with a butterfly net and white orchid respectively. Mrs. John McFarland, co-president of Miller PTA, presented her an appropriate plaque-all gifts of the PTA.

Tom Eccles presented the School a framed picture of Albert Avery to hang in the hall beside those of former principals of the school. Mr. Avery expressed his appreciation for the gesture.

Announcements of final school events were made by Burl Clark, Principal of Miller School.

Refreshments were served to the departing sixth graders, proud parents and friends.

To Attend Class Reunion

Mrs. Wiley W. Fay, of Nevada, Iowa, will arrive this week to attend her 55th class reunion at DePauw University. She will be remembered as Marguerite Nicholson. She will be the guest of her cousins, Mrs. Paul Cook and Mrs. Helen Reuss.

COATESVILLE NEWS

The Winger family had a Mothers' Day get-together at the Coatesville Community Building Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Winger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winger and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Noble and family, all of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bassett of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Winger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Winger and family of Coatesville and Mrs. Leona Winger of Clayton. After the noon hour Harold F. Winger of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, called the building and gave his mother, Mrs. Leona Winger, a Mother's Day greeting by phone.

Harmon Hathaway and Mrs. Doris Rannels and daughter, Bobbi, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook, who prepared a Mothers' Day dinner.

Mrs. Marjorie Winger is chairman of the Multiple Sclerosis Drive now underway in west Clay Twp. Her appointed collectors are Mrs. Charles Coffey, Mrs. Mable Davidson, Mrs. Geneva Herod, Mrs. Lucille Masten, Mrs. Ruth Owens and Mrs. Mary Catherine Walton. This campaign for funds started with a "kick-off tea" at the governor's mansion last Saturday morning.

An excavation on the new Interstate Highway 70 between Lewisville and Richmond, Ind., last October turned up a piece of wood that had the appearance of having been underground for many years. The finder, Frank Huston, polished the wood and gave it to Senator Birch Bayh, who asked U.S. geologists to give him the kind of wood it might be and its age. The report came that the wood was spruce and was 20,000 to 23,000 years old. It had been buried by an ice sheet that came into Indiana as far as Connersville. This was a "useful" find for all geologists.

The Coatesville Brotherhood will again have charge of the Memorial exercises to be held at the town cemetery. Rev. Clyde Lininger of the Canaan Church will deliver the address. The Cascade Band will lead the parade.

The board of town commissioners are doing their utmost (in spite of rain) to have the cemetery mowed, graves filled and leveled, and conditions as good as possible for the Memorial crowd that will come with flowers or to visit the graves of kinsmen and meet with relatives.

There has been some reorganization at the Christian Church recently. Bible study is held Wednesday evenings at 7:30. After the church services were over Sunday a pitch-in dinner was enjoyed by everyone.

A young adult class has been organized with Marjorie Webster as the teacher. A 7th and 8th grade class will be starting with Harold Duncan as teacher. As soon as the roll numbers a dozen the class will treat themselves to a wiener roast and a hayride.

Sixteen ladies met at the church recently to reorganize the Ladies Aid. It was decided they would meet on the second Tuesday night of each month at 7:30. Membership will be open one month for charter members. Officers elected are as follows: Pearl Bowen, president; Madge Dean, vice president; Paula Dean, secretary; and Opal Harvey, treasurer.

Baptist Church Sunday School starts at 9:30 with the worship service at 10:30. The evening youth meeting is at 6:30 and worship at 7:30.

High School commencement time will arrive this week in Hendricks County. The seven high schools of Avon, Brownsburg, Cascade, Danville, North Salem, Pittsboro and Plainfield will hand to their graduates 743 diplomas. The commencement speakers for each of the schools are as follows: Avon, Dr. R. F. Struck of Hanover College; Brownsburg, Dr. Joseph Wick of a Lafayette Christian Church; Cascade, Dr. Ronald Sheik of Indiana State; Danville, Dr. Joseph Wick; North Salem, Rev. Reed Stewart of Bridgeport Methodist Church; Pittsboro, Rev. Ben Merold of Vincennes; Plainfield, Herbert Schwomeyer of Butler University.

Mrs. Roxie Bowen and daughter, Margaret, had a Sunday afternoon callers Mr. and Mrs. Jack Willard and family of Danville and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bowen of Stilesville.

Richard L. Knight of Cincinnati visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Knight, Wednesday.

The Coatesville Friday Club enjoyed its May Luncheon in the Terrace Room of the De Pauw Union on May 19. After the luncheon the members assembled in one of the parlors off the main lounge for the holding of the afternoon program. "Vacations" was the subject for the roll call.

Mrs. Gene Johnson, a guest from Plainfield, gave an interesting talk on her seashell hobby and showed some beautiful shells gathered from Florida beaches and shops.

Mrs. Mable Davidson and Mrs. Grace Gambold were hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davidson attended a dance recital called "An Evening of Dance," held at one of the beautiful grade school buildings at Lebanon. A grand niece, Karen Ruark, a kindergarten pupil, was one of the dancers.

Myron and Janet Hanlon, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hanlon, were overnight guests of their grandparents Saturday.

Ted Walton of the U.S. Navy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walton is visiting with his parents.

On Tuesday, May 23, the Woman's Society of Christian Service will have a breakfast at the Methodist Church, sponsored by the local society. Most of the members are expected to attend.

The following is a tentative program of next Sunday's Memorial Services at the Coatesville Cemetery.

The parade of Boy Scouts, band twirlers, cars carrying World War I veterans, riders of ponies and horses and firing squad will march from the Civic Building at 2:00. There will be a flag raising by the scouts and Rev. Clyde Lininger will address the crowd. The firing squad will fire their salutes and prayer will end ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Johnson and children were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson.

Try and Stop Me

JACKIE GLEASON, who is, in any way you look at him, one of the biggest things in television, now does his weekly show in Miami Beach, Fla. It's a mutual love affair: Jackie enthuses about everything in the place, and the place simply adores Jackie. Seats for his weekly shows are gobbled up as much as two months in advance. And when he walks into a nightclub or hotel lobby there, as he himself admits, he causes a near riot. "It's a shot in the arm," he enthuses. "In New York, for contrast, when I walk into Toots Shor's, only Toots applauds."

Ironical footnote: Gleason appeared in a straight vaudeville act in Miami proper just twenty years ago. "I had fourth billing," he recalls, "played to empty houses, and didn't get a laugh."

OVERHEARD: "Censorship rules have been relaxed to such an extent that you can say things in public now you'd never dare say in private." —Michael Flanders. Impatient gent to supermarket check-out girl: "I KNOW my two carts are empty. I ate the stuff while I was waiting in line." Man at classified ad counter: "I want this run until I notify you to the contrary: For sale. Child's bass drum. Also .22 rifle. Both used only once. No reasonable offer will be refused."

Cost Of Living Up In April

WASHINGTON UPI—Consumer living costs rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in April despite a decline in wholesale prices for the month, the Labor Department reported today.

Lower and decreases in new cars and appliances were offset by increases for clothing, house furnishings and furniture, the monthly index showed.

The consumer price level for April was 115.3 compared to 115 in March. The wholesale price index for April dropped four tenths of 1 per cent to 105.3.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the continued decline in retail food prices reflected reductions at the wholesale level since last September.

He said the declines were mostly the result of lower prices for meats, most fresh vegetables and eggs.

The increase in clothing and house furnishing prices, Ross said, was the result of "higher production and marketing costs being passed on in a favorable market situation."

On The Farm Front

WASHINGTON UPI — A Johnson administration attack on factions seeking an end to federal farm subsidy programs has been answered by the chief critic of government farm programs.

The American Farm Bureau Federation today protested "instructions" given by Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman to state crop control officials urging them to stage a militant battle against those seeking to end farm programs.

Freeman and other administration officials made their statements at a three-day meeting of more than 200 state agricultural stabilization and conservation committeemen.

The committeemen had been summoned to Washington to be briefed by top officials — including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver and Freeman — on foreign, farm and poverty policies.

Freeman and some of his top aides, including ASC administrator Horace Godfrey, charged that critics of the administration's programs wanted to destroy all farm programs and branded the critics "demagogues."

Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman, in his protest to Freeman, said the officials instructed the state committeemen to "propagandize" farmers to influence the vote on legislation now pending in congress.

He said ASC committees were supposed to administer government farm programs, "not to be used for political purposes; not to create a smoke screen to divert attention from the disastrous drop in farm income caused by the administration's repeated actions to force farm market prices to low levels."

He also protested the characterization of "anyone who disagrees with you and advocates ending the production restriction programs of a bygone era as 'demagogues.'"

"Some think the real demagogues are those who cling to the same farm control schemes which have been in effect during the current crash in farm prices that has plunged the parity ratio to 72 per cent, the lowest since the depression year of 1934."

The administration's new attack on critics of farm programs came amid continuing reports of widespread discontent among farmers.

Both Freeman and Godfrey challenged the reports, saying farmer unrest is not as rampant "as some would have us believe." Both said that their recent "shirtless" meetings with farmers in various parts of the country indicated that only a few farmers were extremely unhappy and practically none favored abandoning farm programs altogether.

Despite their statements that farmer unrest is not as serious as reported, Agriculture Department officials are stepping up their efforts to soothe the farmers who have seen farm prices drop for eight consecutive months.

Freeman is in Georgia and Louisiana today, for example, to meet with farmers and hear their problems and complaints.

He says he intends to hold more such meetings — he has already held several in the midwest — and other agricultural officials are fanning out across the country on similar missions.

Ladoga-Fillmore to Open Baseball Sectional May 31

Ladoga and Fillmore will open the first annual IHSAA baseball sectional at Greencastle, May 31, at 1:30 p.m. The announcement was made by the IHSAA yesterday as the drawing was completed.

On June 1, at 1:30 p.m., Greencastle duels Cloverdale, who was re-assigned to the Greencastle sectional from Brazil after Russellville withdrew. Saturday, June 3, Roachdale tangles with sister school, Bainbridge at 10:00 a.m., and the winner of game one and game two will tangle at 12:30 p.m. Then at 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, the winner of game three and game four play for the sectional championship.

Umpires assigned by the IHSAA are Herod Toon and John Gorman, Plainfield, and John Carson, Greencastle.

In case any games are rained out before they are started, the schedule will be re-adjusted by the host school, but if a game is stopped by rain, and is necessary to continue at a later date, it will be started exactly where it was halted, in the same inning, out, and count on the batter.

The winner of the Greencastle sectional will play the winner of the Martinsville site in the first game at the Franklin regional on June 10.

Big Four Conference Schedules Summer Games

The Big Four Conference baseball program is going summertime. Instead of trying to squeeze the baseball season in at the end of track, the eleven conference coaches voted to run the baseball program thru the months of June and July.

The eleven game schedule will start on June 11, and end on July 23, with the final game of the conference tourney.

All games have been scheduled for Wednesdays at 5:30 and Sunday afternoons. Rain dates will be scheduled at the convenience of the teams.

Members of the conference are Bainbridge, Darlington, Fillmore, Linden, New Ross, North Salem, Pittsboro, Roachdale, Waveland, Waynetown, and Granville Wells.

Pistol Shoot to be Held at Indiana U.

BLOOMINGTON UPI—About 275 crack marksmen from police agencies all over the nation will compete at the National Police Pistol Championships June 15-16 at Indiana University.

The university's police administration department will conduct the championships under the sponsorship of the National Rifle Association.

Frank May, New York City, who won the individual title last year, is expected to defend his title, and women's champion Lucy Chambliss, Winter Haven, Fla., will also return. She faces stern competition from Jeanne Bray, a policewoman from Columbus, Ohio, who held the women's championship from 1962 through 1965.

The U. S. Border Patrol team, defending champion in match firing, also was due to return. Other teams entered this year include the White House, New York City, and state police teams from Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Maryland and Illinois.

American Red Cross Increases Services to Fighting Men in Viet

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Services provided to American fighting men in South Vietnam by the American Red Cross have continued to mount in recent months, increasing by more than 500 per cent in some activities, General James F. Collins, ARC president, said today.

As an indication of the skyrocketing demand resulting from the military build up, General Collins said the average number of cases handled each month by Red Cross workers in Vietnam jumped from 2,000 during the first three months of 1964 to 11,000 monthly in January, February, and March of this year.

Emergency messages involving these cases are now flowing back and forth between communities at home and the Vietnam front at the rate of 10,000 a month, he added, and this does not include the many thousands of less urgent airmail communications exchanged every week between local ARC chapters and Red Cross field directors stationed with the troops.

The relay of information is one of the key jobs performed by the Red Cross for members of the armed forces, frequently providing the military with factual reports about an illness or death in the family required to determine the need for emergency leaves. On the brighter side, the messages may be news of a newborn child.

For the able-bodied fighting men in South Vietnam Red Cross services are performed by field staff at 41 locations in that country. Many of the ARC staff traveled to Southeast Asia with the units they are now helping—serving for and with the servicemen, living, eating and sleeping under the same combat conditions.

Red Cross services for the ill and injured have quadrupled in Vietnam alone and have doubled elsewhere in the Far East as new hospitals have been set up to care for casualties. ARC hospital volunteers have increased by over 1,000 throughout Asia and they are devoting more than 20,000 hours of service each month to making life a little brighter for the wounded, General Collins continued.

"During refueling or rest stops made by military hospital planes in the Philippines, Okinawa, Guam, Japan, Hawaii, and at air force bases in this country, these tireless workers are on hand day or night to provide whatever measure of comfort they can for the patients," he said. "Sometimes it's a book or magazine, or for those whose diets permit, a hot or cold drink and cookies, gum, mints, and fruit juices. At one air base in Japan volunteers have made a great hit by providing patients with hot towels in the Japanese guest tradition."

While the American Red Cross has had no volunteers in South Vietnam since American military dependents were evacuated last year, ARC career workers are on duty in the five military hospitals in that country and on the U.S. Navy Hospital Ship Repose, General Collins added.

Newest Red Cross service in Vietnam is the Center-Clubmobile recreation program which provides servicemen with a place where they can relax from combat and other duties for a few hours to play ping-pong or cards, write letters home, have a soft drink, and an opportunity to "bat the breeze" with an American girl. Where security permits, clubmobile teams take special recreation programs to the more isolated troops who cannot come to the center.

At present, General Collins added, 46 Red Cross recreation workers are operating units at Da Nang serving the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force, at Nha Trang with the U.S. Army Support Command, at Bien Hoa with the 173rd Airborne Brigade, at Di An with the First Infantry Division, at Cam Ranh Bay serving the 504th Quartermaster Depot, and at An Khe with the First Air Cavalry Division. Staff has been assigned to open three more units immediately at Phan Rang, Dong Ba Thin, and Qui Nhon. Other locations, requested by the military commands, also are being considered. Since the Center-Clubmobile units operation began last October, nearly 64,000 combat support troops have participated in the programs.

In all, 150 Red Cross staff workers are now stationed in South Vietnam, a ten-fold increase since last summer, it was pointed out, and this number is expected to exceed 200 by June.

To offset the serious drain on the national organization's financial resources caused by the increased cost of Red Cross services to the military in Vietnam, plus two years of unprecedented disaster expenditures, General Collins said Red Cross chapters have been asked to raise an additional $9 million in special campaigns during the course of the next fiscal year.

On the home front, an increase also has taken place in assistance given to families of servicemen by Red Cross chapters, he stated, and many chapters have brought the wives and parents of men in Vietnam together in groups to share information, experiences, and learn of resources which can be helpful in coping with the many problems caused by family separation.

Also here at home, the American Red Cross is currently collecting 250,000 units of blood at the request of the Department of Defense. For use in Vietnam and elsewhere, the blood is being processed into the fractions gamma globulin to fight hepatitis, and serum albumin which is useful in combatting shock caused by wounds. To date more than 75,000 blood units have been collected, over half of it from college and university students. Whole blood needs in Vietnam are being met through military collections in the Far East.

More than $600,000 in donated and purchased supplies for U.S. troops have been shipped to South Vietnam by the American Red Cross since last summer, General Collins added, and this does not include 2,700 shipments of gifts and supplies sent through ARC chapters to field directors for distribution in combat areas at Christmas time. These included everything from cameras and radios to a letter and a candy bar from a 12-year-old girl.

Other Red Cross supplies sent, en route, or projected for the military in Southeast Asia include 200,000 paperback books; 160,000 ditty bags, nearly all made by chapter volunteers; and 50,000 comfort kits. These contain soap, razor and blades, toothbrush and paste, and other articles for wounded servicemen who have lost their personal effects. Other items sent range from hot water bottle covers to tape recorders and clip boards—all designed to assist and comfort U.S. troops working and fighting under difficult conditions.

The American Red Cross also is expanding its help for civilians uprooted by the fighting in South Vietnam, General Collins said. It has launched a new 11-point aid program including medical and first aid supplies, provisions of a nursing instructor, financial support for training first aid teams, 25,000 layettes which ARC chapter have been asked to make, the purchase of two ambulances, four wheelchairs, 40 beds for civilian amputees, and six monthly shipments of 1,000 cans of sweetened condensed milk to be given Vietnamese children on a prescription basis. Given through the Vietnamese Red Cross, this program will continue into 1967.

American Red Cross youth is active in people-to-people projects to assist their counterparts in South Vietnam. Some items en route or projected—all packed and financed by ARC youth activities—include 102,000 friendship boxes, 40,000 friendship kits, and 1,500 school chests. These items are given to Vietnamese young people in need of educational, health, or school supplies.

The special campaign and the increased services to U.S. forces in Southeast Asia will be high on the list of subjects to be discussed next week when some 4,000 ARC volunteers and staff meet for the forty-first annual Red Cross Convention in San Diego.

"The assistance being given our servicemen," General Collins added, "is in actuality being given by the American people through their Red Cross. It is designed and intended to help maintain morale and to make life for the American servicemen and the people of South Vietnam a little easier."

Russians Playing For High Stakes in U.A.R.

LONDON UPI — The Russians are playing for high stakes in the current Middle East crisis.

They are clearly determined to maintain, if not widen, their foothold in the area to tip the East-West power balance in the Middle East in their favor.

Diplomats said the next few days will reveal more clearly the motives behind Soviet strategy in the crisis.

The Russians are deeply involved in the Middle East and have a heavy political, military and propaganda investment there. But are they prepared to push their intervention to the point of risking involvement in war and in outright confrontation with the United States?

Soviet affairs experts hold that on present evidence and past patterns of Kremlin strategy, Moscow is neither willing nor prepared to risk crossing the brink in the Middle East. For the Kremlin, there are too many uncertainties and doubtful allies.

They have backed their political strategy with sizeable and continuing arms shipments to Syria and the United Arab Republic. Now they have hastened to pledge their support for U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's last crisis moves against Israel.

What they have told Nasser and Syrian leaders privately is another matter. It is in this counsel that lies the answer to the Kremlin's deepest intentions.

If they urge them — as is assumed in London — to go easy and avoid further brinkmanship, war in the Middle East is believed to be avoidable — although at a price for American prestige and Israeli status.

But, as some diplomatic reports suggest, if Moscow has given Nasser more or less a free hand, a showdown appears almost inevitable.

Much will depend, diplomats say, on the ultimate U.S. stand in the current conflict. It could sway the Kremlin's final action even at this late hour.

Foiled Again! When starting geraniums or other house plants from slips, place aluminum foil over the top of a water glass, and pierce the foil to insert the stem into water. This makes a miniature "greenhouse" and keeps water from evaporating too rapidly and drying out the cutting.

Parched Starch? If the soleplate of your electric iron has become stained with burned-on starch, let it cool and then rub with a damp cloth sprinkled with baking soda. Presto!... the starch will disappear!

A diet is for people who are thick and tired of it!

Suggestion for Salty Soup Get a little too much salt in your soup occasionally? It may sound silly, but the salty taste can be decreased by adding a pinch of brown sugar.

Year 'Round Spring-time With hot summer days just ahead, you're probably thinking of air conditioning your home. But did you know air conditioning costs far less to install and operate if you convert to clean, flameless electric heat at the same time? It's true! The folks at Public Service Indiana will be glad to show you how you can enjoy year 'round comfort... at surprising savings!

Meat Loaf Dry? For a moist meat loaf try using oatmeal in the recipe instead of bread crumbs or cracker crumbs. You'll be amazed at the difference.

Many Angles To Remodeling Of Today's Homes

When it comes to exterior remodeling, home improvement is a many-sided story — thanks to the many sidings now available for home renovation.

For just some of the many sides to the siding story, consider wood, asbestos cement, steel, mineral fiber, aluminum and vinyl. Add to these the masonry veneers; then, add the range of textures, finishes, colors to the category of siding. Many sided, indeed!

For the homeowner, the important sides to the story are these: Improved home appearance, better protection, increased home value, reasonable cost, convenient maintenance.

How to choose the "best" siding? It isn't an easy question, since many modern sidings seem to offer the same basic advantages of attractive appearance, minimum maintenance and resistance to weather, fire, other damage.

A homeowner may choose a certain kind of siding because it offers a special feature he particularly wants, or because he knows it has been widely used in his community, with successful results.

His building materials dealer can supply information about the advantages of specific sidings, and he is also in a position to know how various sidings perform in local

IRS Questions And Answers

Q—I own a small business and had to file several tax returns. I just got a refund check and I'm not sure what it's for. How can I find out?

A—This year refund checks are identified by class and period of tax. For example, refunds on individual income tax are identified as TAX REF while corporation income tax refunds are identified as CORP REF.

This identification appears at the right of the check just under the amount. Employment and excise taxes are also identified.

The period covered by the check, either a year or quarter, is shown at the left of the check under the date the check was issued.

A close examination of your check, therefore, will show which tax it covers and the period involved.

Q—I am planning to set up a neighborhood service business during school vacation this summer. I will mow lawns, wash windows, etc. Will I be taxed on what I make?

A—You will have to file an income tax return if your earnings are $600 or more for the year. You also may be liable for self-employment tax if your net earnings from the jobs you do are $400 or more.

Keep a record of what you are paid and your expenses for equipment, supplies and so forth. This will help you determine whether you earned enough from this and other sources to be required to pay taxes.

Q—Whenever there's a big daily double payoff at the track you read stories in the paper about the IRS wanting the winner's Social Security number. Could you explain this to me?

A—Information requested from winners at the race track is the same as that asked for by payers of dividends and interest. The winner is required to properly identify himself so that the track can file an information return showing the amount paid and the name and the Social Security number of the taxpayer. This information can then be compared with what the taxpayer reports on his return.

Q—In a divorce, does it make any difference whether payments a man makes to his former wife are considered alimony or child support?

A—Yes it does from a tax standpoint. If the payments qualify as alimony they will be deductible to the payer and taxable to the recipient. If the payments are considered child support, they will not be deductible by the payer and will not be counted as taxable income to his former wife. However, they will count as support in determining who may claim the children as dependents.

Q—Both of my kids need dental work this year and I'm sure the expense will put my deductions way above what they were last year. Considering these expenses, can I have my withholding reduced?

A—If you have increased your withholding in the past by not claiming all of the exemptions to which you're entitled or by having additional amounts withheld, you can reduce your withholding to the legal minimum. File another Form W-4 with your employer claiming all of your exemptions and dropping any additional amounts that had been withheld.

You may apply for additional withholding allowances based only on the amount of your itemized deductions last year and your estimate that they will be at least that much this year.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON UPI — Not long ago a veteran diplomat described the U.S. State Department as a "fudge factory."

If the meaning of that metaphor is not entirely clear to you, I recommend you obtain a copy of a volume of hearings released this week by a House appropriations subcommittee.

On page 306, you will encounter the testimony of Richard P. Scott, deputy assistant secretary of state for communications, who is explaining why his office needs more money.

"There are two major elements involved in our request representing increases," Scott reports. "The major one is for $414,000. This represents, sir, the annualization of the computer base switch. . . ."

Now stop here for a moment and chew on that phrase "the annualization of the computer base switch." Unless your taste buds are totally dead, you will find it has a distinct fudgy flavor.

But hold: It turns out that although the computer base switch is being annualized, there also has been a "slippage in activation."

Fudge lovers will have no trouble recognizing the activation slippage as a delay in putting the computer program into operation.

In that case, asks Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., how much of the unspent funds will be returned to the Treasury?

"We have a rental slippage reserve of $273,000," Scott replies.

"You have apparently successfully evaded the question," Rooney remarks.

This Rooney, as you can tell, has had so many samples from the fudge factory forced upon him, he can no longer stand the stuff.

Nevertheless, it is easy to see why Scott's office needs more money. It has charge of the State Department's message center.

In other words, when someone at the department says "pass the fudge," Scott is the man who does it.

On Jan. 7 of this year, which we may assume was a typical day down at the fudge factory,

TV In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD UPI—Would television's daily news broadcasts be more enriching, more fulfilling, more in perspective, if they took the heroic step of risking dullness on purpose—once in a while?

Isn't the balanced, informed mind of the mature news reporter—and its basic reliance on words—needed more often as an antidote for the visual oversimplification that frequently occurs in coverage based mainly on film?

These questions stem from a brilliant article by British journalist Henry Fairlie in the spring number of Horizon magazine.

Mr. Fairlie noted that even carefully chosen words by a video reporter are not able to properly qualify a spectacular picture. Yet his article still contends that words are the only immediate answer to most problems of television news.

It adds that given the potent effect of the pictures, the "words covering them must provide the corrective. Most television reporting just describes the pictures, and by doing so, reinforces them. But the object of words in television news should be to distract from the pictures, to say: 'It was not quite so. This was not the whole story.'"

The Horizon article points up properly that whereas pictures simplify, "the object of words should be to supply qualification and complication."

Fairlie contends that the vital role of video's reporters or commentators is "to make watching as difficult as reading, to invite the viewer to make comparisons and judgments from his own experience. . . ."

"Life is not made up of dramatic incidents—not even the life of a nation. It is made up of slowly evolving events and processes."

But television news, the article goes on, "jerks from incident to incident. For the real world of patient and familiar arrangements, it substitutes an unreal world of constant activity. . . it is almost impossible, these days, to consider any problem or any event except as a crisis; and, by this very way of looking at it, it in fact becomes a crisis."

The Fairlie article ends with the provocative suggestion that many of our unnecessary anxieties might be allayed if, once in a while, television news began to say: "It has been a dull day. But we have collected some rather interesting pictures for you, of no particular significance."

"Television news," the essay ends, "has a deep responsibility to try to be dull, from time to time, and let the world go to sleep."

Communists Disregard Combat Truce In Viet

SAIGON UPI — American troops and planes returned to the attack today after the end of a troubled Buddha birthday truce in the Vietnam war. But Communist forces opened fire before the end of the combat pause, allied spokesmen said.

They said U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses dumped scores of tons of high explosives on Communist troop concentrations areas within 12 miles of Saigon after the 24-hour truce ended.

But the spokesmen said North Vietnamese units in the Central Highlands 220 miles northeast of Saigon began lobbing mortar shells at allied positions minutes before the agreed end of the 24-hour pause for the anniversary of Buddha's birth.

Four U.S. Infantrymen were wounded in the first round of mortar shells, spokesmen said. UPI staff correspondent Tom Corpora reported a second barrage hit a Vietnamese village just outside a nearby U.S. Special Forces camp. It killed six civilians and wounded five, he said.

U.S. commanders sent helicopter gunships and puffed the magic dragon gunships after the Communist mortar crews. The guerrillas fled.

Military officials said the Communists violated the truce 71 times. They said 32 of the violations were "significant."

The violations took the lives of 12 allies and wounded 60 more, they said. Fighting back, allied troops killed 51 Communists, they said.

One of the most serious violations erupted on the coast about 325 miles northeast of Saigon Tuesday when an estimated north Vietnamese company attacked a U.S. platoon, spokesmen said.

The Communists used grenades, small arms and claymore mines which spit thousands of lethal pellets. Spokesmen said they killed six Americans and a Vietnamese village chief.

Acres Will Be President Of Great Lakes Association

Henry A. Acres, assistant president of Hofstra University, will take over the presidency of the 12-campus, 20,000-student Great Lakes Colleges Association at the start of the 1967-68 academic year.

DePauw University is a member of the GLCA.

Appointment of Acres was announced following a GLCA board of directors meeting here this past weekend by Antioch College President James P. Dixon, board chairman. Acres succeeds Dr. Lee Johnson, first man to head the six-year-old association, who is now vice president of the University of Illinois.

Members of the association in addition to DePauw are Albion, Antioch, Denison, Earlham, Hope, Kalamazoo, Kenyon, Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Washburn, Wooster.

The new GLCA president has held both teaching and administrative positions at Hofstra University, Hempstead, N. Y. He helped design the experimental New College at Hofstra, a self-contained, three-year institution specifically devised to enable undergraduates to seek concentrated study in a small community of teachers and students.

Acres' background in experimental education will serve him well in his new post.

Formed to pool resources of its 12 member colleges in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, and to launch programs no one college could afford alone, GLCA now has nearly a dozen cooperative projects going.

It maintains overseas centers in Tokyo, Beirut, Bogota and Guanajuato, Mexico, where students from any of the affiliated colleges may study, and it runs a seminar for students and faculty in Yugoslavia each summer. It has obtained financial backing from private foundations and Federal agencies to fund programs in the humanities and non-Western studies and to provide teaching interns for the physical science and social science departments of member institutions.

Cloverdale School News

The final news from the halls of CHS—a salute to the Seniors of 1967.

This past week has flown for the forty-seven Seniors of Cloverdale High School. Classes were somewhat hap-hazardous. Most teachers followed the policy of "no finals for Seniors" which brought many sighs of relief from the forty-seven graduates.

Monday, May 15, they returned to school with "Prom" hangovers, but smiles and the words "four more days to go" on their lips. Tuesday and Wednesday they sat in class—not very patiently, but more like first graders instead of Seniors—counting nails in boards, pieces of chalk and window panes (anything but concentrating on Government, Math or English).

Thursday was a big day anxiously awaited by all Seniors—Awards Day. Many Seniors were honored.

Marcia Routt was acknowledged by Mrs. Carrie Pierce as being the DAR winner. The Senior Boy or Girl Civics Award presented by Mrs. Boatright was given to Franchon Coffin, who majored in Social Studies in high school. Senior Marjorie Sims was given a Home Economics Award for her classroom work this year and the Crisco Award, which is the highest honor given in Home Economics was awarded to Fayette Staley by Miss Dierdorf, Home Ec teachers.

Many athletic awards were presented by Coach Miller. Jim Coon and Joe Williams received varsity baseball awards. Seniors Richard Terry, Jim Coon and John Truax were honored for participating in Track for four years.

Mrs. Franklin, Latin teacher and Thespian sponsor, presented a Latin I Award to Senior Marsha Sutherland for making only 10 errors out of a possible 2108 in her classroom work this year. The Best Thespian Awards for the year 1966-67 were presented to Fayette Staley and Vickie Knoy.

Ronald Purcell, Science teacher, awarded the Physics Award to Jim Coon for outstanding work in class. The highest Science Award presented, the Bausch and Lomb Award, was presented to Robert Minkler for four outstanding years of work in the Science Department.

The G.A.A. awards were presented by Mrs. Sharp, sponsor. Eva Jean Davis captured the two awards in bowling—the High Game award and Best Average award. Marjorie Sims was honored for having the best improved record in her bowling scores this year and Marsha Sutherland was presented with an award for being captain of the Girls' Basketball Team.

Marsha also received a trophy for winning the Senior Girls' Division in the Ping Pong Tournament. Twenty-two sweaters and ten State plaques were awarded to Senior GAA members.

Senior Jim Coon was awarded the Senior Math Award, presented by Math teacher, Mr. Tiller.

Adding a little touch to Awards Day, Mr. Cress presented the two oil portraits to the Most Photogenic Seniors as chosen by Porters Studio to Sharon Cromwell and Glenn Napier. Adding another sentimental touch was the presentation of the 'note of appreciation' signed by all her former students in school to Mrs. Dixon. Mr. Cress presented it to the third grade teacher who is retiring after thirty-three years teaching career and the student body very properly gave Mrs. Dixon a standing ovation.

The highest athletic award the Cloverdale High School athletic department offers is the blanket for receiving nine or more Varsity letters. For receiving thirteen Varsity letters in athletics, Jim Coon was given a blanket and for receiving eleven Varsity letters, John Truax was presented a blanket by Principal, Mr. Cress.

The John Phillip Sousa Award, which the music department offers for outstanding work in band was presented to Senior Vickie Knoy.

One of the highest awards given to a Senior boy and girl, the American Legion Award, was presented by Mr. Cress to John Truax and Vickie Knoy.

The highest acknowledgement of the afternoon was to Salutatorian, Sharon Cromwell, and Valedictorian, Jim Coon.

Also, Thursday afternoon the National Honor Society inducted four new provisional members and one Senior active member. Those who were initiated in a very impressive ceremony were Senior Marsha Sutherland, and Juniors, Gerry Hoffa, Vivian Whitaker, Rick Ford, and Lucille Hunsicker.

The National Honor Society also declared Thursday "Teacher Appreciation Day" and red roses were placed on all the high school teachers desks and each teacher went home in a very clean car!!

Friday, May 19, the Senior class traveled to Turkey Run

State Park for a day of nothing but FUN and fun they had!! They all returned with sore legs from hiking, too.

The past twelve years, the Seniors have worked and strived to learn to become better citizens and future leaders in our world. Now over one-third of the '67 graduates plan to further their education in various colleges and universities.

Until next year . . .

Chimney Corners

by Bassett

Furniture can and does talk. It says so much about so many people. For instance, look what Chimney Corners has to say:

Bassett designer, Leo Jiranek, did not take our American heritage for granted because he created this style with such a depth of feeling that the suite is an inspiration to all who see it.

The craftsmen share the enthusiasm in equal parts because they build these pieces for generations yet to be.

Once Chimney Corners arrives at your home, it speaks about you, too.

It eloquently boasts of your flawless good taste and decorating ability.

It openly brags about your wisdom because you could have spent more but couldn't have gotten as much.

After everything has been said, Chimney Corners just sits there, smiles and evokes an epidemic of friendship.

In glowing Harvest Tone on colonial hardwoods and veneers with engraved maple planks on the veneered tops.

Pieces galore in accent colors of Dominion Blue or Hearth Red. This suite will endure lovely because of the top coats of Guardsman Lacquer.
